Bringing Education and Skills Training to You

Our Web-based tools and resources for education, training and employment organizations address the rapidly growing need for skilled workers across Canada by making 24/7 learning available anywhere the learner has access to the Internet. We are the national distributor of PLATO courseware for Edmentum™, a world leader in products and services for online education and training, and of ESPORT™—the Essential Skills Portfolio—a powerful tool for career exploration, planning and employment readiness programs.

Transformative Web-based solutions for organizations specializing in youth and adult learning

Eskilon Learning Solutions provides Web-based tools and resources to help learners and instructors establish education, training and career goals. By recognizing prior learning and skills, identifying skill gaps, and focusing learning time on instructional and career goals, we ultimately improve learner performance and success while saving learning time and reducing costs.

Anytime Anywhere Advantage

Removing barriers with flexible delivery and increased accessibility, Eskilon Learning Solutions makes 24/7 learning available anywhere the learner has access to the Internet—in urban, rural or remote locations and in schools, colleges, community learning centres or in distance learning programs. All that is needed is a PC and a connection to the Internet. We offer instructors a targeted, effective and easy-to-use solution that provides the built-in flexibility that is key to learners' success. Available anytime, anywhere, these resources give learners the convenience to study when it fits into their lives best. Whether learners are working in a classroom, learning centre, or at home, they progress at their own pace, mastering each concept before moving forward. No matter what the barriers, learning and teaching has never been this exciting and this easy.

Performance & Investment Advantage

PLATO's adult education award-winning instruction is aligned to standards and national tests to help students attain their GED, achieve their academic or vocational training goals, or upgrade their job skills in preparation for employment or advancement. Instructors are provided with robust reporting tools to easily monitor learner and class progress and achievement in real-time, as well as accurately identify concepts that have not been mastered and take steps to close knowledge gaps. By targeting skill gaps, learning is more effective and efficient. Adults learn more in less time and have the freedom and flexibility they need to manage their personal responsibilities while quickly achieving their education, training and employment goals.

With computer-based learning:

- exam results are 26% to 37% higher
- long-term retention is an average of 15% higher
- the need for instructional time decreases on average by 26%

Individualized Learning Advantage

With PLATO instructors are able to monitor and support individual learners in a group setting while they work on different skills at different levels, preparing for different goals. With customized and targeted instruction to fill specific knowledge gaps the focus is on where it is most needed, helping learners achieve their goals quickly.
